

TO REDEEM WAR
SHATTERED MINES

MINES OF LENS TO BE RECLAIMED BUT IT IS THOUGHT THAT IT WILL TAKE EIGHT OR TEN YEARS

By the Associated Press

PARIS, Feb. 8.—Although all possible efforts to reconstruct the war-shattered mines of Lens have been or are being made there is now no hope that a single ton of coal will be extracted before 1921. In fact, the task of bringing back Lens to its former prosperity is so immense that it is not expected that the town and its mines will return to anything like their former state before 1928 or 1929.

Provided that the work can be carried on without interruption, it will take all 1920 to clear the underground workings of the debris with which they were choked by the Germans. Most of the workings, and all the deeper one, are flooded.

A plan for drawing off the water has been arranged. The reconstruction and repair of the tubing will be carried out by German workmen, and the cement for the purpose will be brought from Germany. The pumping out of the mines is expected to take at least three years. It is hoped that by next year it will be possible to extract coal from the first galleries, which are only 600 feet deep but it is not expected that the water will be pumped out of the lower workings, which run down to 2,250 yards, until 1923 or even 1924.

The railways in the Lens district will not be completely repaired till 1921. Of the 800 workmen's dwellings belonging to the Miners' Society, not a hundred can be repaired. Four hundred concrete huts are to be built in which it is hoped to house the 5,000 workers who will be employed in the clearing of the pits for the next two or three years.

His Establishment

Ada, Oklahoma, Feb. 9, 1920

To my Friends and Customers: In regard to the seizure of extract at my store; I wish to state that all high grade extracts contain a large percent of alcohol. It is probable that all Grocers handle it. All cooks and housewives know this.

We were not selling this extract for intoxicating purposes. And if it was gotten from my store for that purpose it was obtained under false pretense. I neither sell it by the dozen nor by the half dozen.

I did not know that it was contrary to law to sell this extract for culinary purposes. All grocers have been doing it.

One word from the proper authorities would have stopped all of this gusto.

Thanking my customers and friends. We still hope for your confidence and good will.

NOT CAMPBELLITE
NOT RUSSELLITE

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 8.—(Special) An announcement that has attracted much attention about the state capital is that of Senator James Draughon of Murray County who informs the public that he will seek to succeed Congressman Harrell of the Fifth District. Senator Draughon has served in both houses of the Oklahoma legislature and in addition to making a large number of friends won a splendid reputation as a legislator. It is conceded here that he will be a most formidable candidate.

The announcement of Senator Draughon reminds his senatorial colleagues of a hot shot he took at Campbell Russell in the senate last winter. Senator Luther Harrison of Ada had just concluded a remarkable speech in support of his antisocialism bill. Denouncements of reds, anarchists, socialists and the like had come in swift succession. The followers of Pastor Russell who had come in for their share of attention at times during the war also crept into the debate.

Senator Draughon has little in his appearance that indicates the humorist. Rising at his desk the senator said, substantially:

"My actions, some of my conversation and perhaps my appearance do not bear out the information that I am going to give you. In a village in Murray county there is a little country church; on the rolls of this church, known as a Christian church my name appears as a member but I want it distinctly understood in the future that I am neither a Campbellite, nor a Russellite, by a damn sight!"

ALLIES NAME THE SCALPS WANTED

ALSO DEMAND ACCESS TO THE ARCHIVES IN ORDER TO GET INFORMATION THAT IS WANTED

By the Associated Press

BERLIN, Feb. 9.—Decision as to whether the German National Assembly will be called to consider the answer to the allied demands for the extradition of Germans accused of violation of the laws of war is expected soon. The cabinet met yesterday and considered the list of men whose surrender was desired by the allied note, which was delivered to Premier Bauer Saturday night by the French charge de affaires but nothing was made public as to the conclusion reached.

In addition to the number of Germans on the extradition list the allies demanded access to archives and possession of all the German sacramental evidences so that prosecution may be facilitated. The note is understood to declare that the allies do not purpose to grant amnesty to men not named in the list but will reserve the right to prosecute them should they be apprehended on allied soil.

A KENTUCKY MOB
ATTEMPTS LYNCH

CITIZENS DEFY MILITIA AND TRY TO SECURE CUSTODY OF NEGRO CONVICTED OF RAPE

By the Associated Press

LEXINGTON, Ky., Feb. 9.—William Lockett, a negro, was convicted today of the assault and murder of Geneva Hardman, a ten year old school girl, and was sentenced to be executed March 11.

Several persons were wounded and some killed when troops opened fire on a crowd of fifty men which stormed the court house door with a rope.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Feb. 9.—Four persons were killed and several were injured today when a mob intent upon lynching William Lockett, a negro, who confessed to the murder of ten year old Geneva Hardman, charged the courthouse during Lockett's trial and was fired upon by the police and state troops.

The clash with the soldiers held off the mob while the authorities managed to slip the negro away to a place of safety.

Great excitement was caused by the shooting and there were muttering of further trouble.

Those reported killed by the troops were:

E. F. Carrier of Lexington, John Thomas of Versailles, William Effington of Versailles, and a man named Bradley of Lexington.

While the mob, the ringleader of which carried a rope, was attempting to get into the court house the jury found Lockett guilty of first degree murder and a minute or two later he was sentenced to die in the electric chair March 11.

In addition to the four persons killed, fifteen were injured, the troops learned later.

Four hundred troops from Camp Taylor, Ky. have been ordered to Lexington to prevent further trouble and are now on their way here, officials announced. The additional troops were requested as it was feared the 200 militiamen could not handle the situation. The mob now is looting pawn shops and sixty-two revolvers were taken at one place. An attack on the troops is feared by authorities.

LOUISVILLE Ky., Feb. 9.—Telephone reports received here during the forenoon said mobs were then looting pawn shops and hardware stores at Lexington in an effort to obtain fire arms and had declared the intention of securing the negro Will Lockett, by any means. On the heels of this report came an appeal from Gov. Edwin F. Morrow for troops to protect the negro and quiet the situation.

Arrangements were made immediately for Camp Taylor to form two provisional battalions of 160 men each and send them to Lexington by each and send them to Lexington by each and send them to Lexington by each.

Louisville is nearly 100 miles from Lexington.

PEACE TREATY
AGAIN TO FORE

WITH THE SITUATION JUST AS IT WAS NOV. 19, THE SENATE AGAIN TACKLES THE PROBLEM.

By the Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—With the situation just as it was Nov. 19, when ratification efforts resulted in a deadlock and attempts at compromise were abandoned as hopeless, the German peace treaty today again was to the fore in the senate. The pact itself was not actually before the body, but it came up indirectly with the beginning of efforts by the leaders in the controversy to untangle the parliamentary web that must be removed before the treaty can be considered. The first move after formerly calling up the treaty was to get rid of the cloture rule under which the closing debate was conducted in November.

When debate does begin, a long and bitter contest was forecast by leaders and while some senators believed the deadlock would not be broken and the whole question would be taken into the coming presidential race.

President Wilson's latest statement on his views was received in different ways. In some quarters it was held that his reiteration of opposition to the language of some of the Lodge reservations has widened the breach between the democrats and republicans while others professed to see evidence of confession in the President's words which they said would aid the compromise negotiations.

Present Day Girl Is Lazy and Spoiled Is
This Writer's Opinion

LONDON, Jan. 23.—"The present day middle class girl has been spoiled, she is lazy, restless, pleasure-seeking and egotistical, has a better time than any other woman in the world, but she is never satisfied", accuses a woman writing to the London DAILY NEWS over the signature "Victorian".

"The young married woman of today appears to think that she is the only woman who has ever had any domestic difficulties, or had to do any work", she writes. "The fact is of course, that she has a far easier time than women had in my day."

"In those days we didn't grumble, or look upon ourselves as victims. We didn't talk about any revolt of housewives, or worry our husbands to death with demands for a better time. We worked hard and cheerfully did without luxuries and expensive holidays, and brought up large families without considering ourselves martyrs."

"The trouble is that the present-day middle-class girl is 'spoilt'. Usually, she dislikes children, and resents having to give up any time to looking after them. She would rather play bridge than hear a child's prayers."

"The more I see of the young married woman of today, and the more I hear of her constant grumbling, the more proud I am of being an old Victorian."

Thousands of Jews Risk Lives In Brave Effort to Reach Palestine

JUSTICE
HONORARY
CHAIRMAN OF
ZIONIST ORGANIZATION

Millions of Jews throughout the world are awaiting the word that will permit them to start again another Exodus to the Promised Land.

In every quarter of the globe, impatient thousands are waiting with tense eagerness for the great word which will enable them to go to the one land where they believe they will find peace and the spiritual satisfaction of national existence—the Land of Israel.

This signal will come with the signing of the treaty of peace with Turkey, establishing a British mandate over Palestine and paving the way for the formation of a Jewish National Homeland, where the intense mass-desire of these millions of modern Pilgrims will be realized.

There is no country in the world without its large group of Jews waiting with agonized impatience for the time when mass-migration will be opened to the Holy Land. The Zionist Organization of America, which is endeavoring to raise $10,000,000 for carrying on restoration work in Palestine to prepare it to receive this world wide Exodus, reports that its most serious problem is to restrain Plans have been made to handle this world-wide migration through Copenhagen, London and Haifa. Official reports issued by the International Zionist Organization show that organized in this great mass-desire to reach the Holy Land are 1,000,000 Jews in Russia, 500,000 in Poland, 30,000 in Argentina, 40,000 Russian prisoners of war held in Germany, as well as thousands of leading German Jews, 20,000 in Hungary and over double that number in Austria, 5,000 engineers of the Czech-Slovakian army and over 90 per cent of the entire Jewish population in the East East, as well as 9,000 German and Austrian prisoners of war held in Siberia.

In addition, there are large groups in Persia, Morocco, Algeria, Tunisia, Turkey, Bulgaria, Jugoslavia, Greece, organized to leave, as well as masses, including leading professional men in every European country and Canada. In the United States many professional men and women have volunteered their administrative services in establishing the new country, the first 5,000 applicants from this country representing 134 different vocations ranging from laborer to specialist.

THEODORE

ZIONISM

The Universal Mania

By Clyde Calhoun Morris

In the good old days before steam electricity, gasoline were so popular as means of transportation, and our forefathers were moving westward, they tell some interesting experiences. They say that when several families would decide to move further west that they would all agree that on a certain date they would meet at a fixed place and with their household effects and their provisions for the journey, would start on the long journey toward the golden west.

It is said that if a family who expected to be a member of the train, should mistake the date and arrive at the starting point only to discover that his would-be companions had already gone and that it would be impossible for him to overtake them, that he would not worry so much over his unfortunate circumstance, but would go back to his old home and make his arrangements to make another crop, consoling himself over the fact that there would be another wagon train leaving in six months.

In these days of hurry, if a man gets to a street corner too late to catch a certain street car, although he knows there will be another along in three minutes, he takes in vain the name of everybody and everything in heaven and earth. If he misses a train and has to wait a couple of hours for another he thinks he is ruined forever. If he catches the train he wants it only to hit the rails in high places; if he gets in an automobile he wants to make fifty miles an hour. It is possible to go to bed in New Orleans, eat breakfast in Memphis, dinner in Cairo, and supper in Chicago. He is not satisfied with the train and the automobile, but is now riding in the airplane and traveling at an hundred and twenty five miles an hour.

In New York they place hundreds of pounds of mail sacks in tubes and shoot them across the city, I am told. It seems now that it will not be long until they will be able to place a person in some sort of capsule and flip him across the country.

Not only is it hurry! hurry! hurry! in transportation, but it is true in every other avenue of life. We get up in the morning and from that hour until time to retire at night, we hear nothing else but hurry! hurry! hurry! We hurry everyone around the place, we hurry down the street, we hurry into the office or shop, we hurry everyone with whom we come in contact through the day. If we go into a barbershop, we want a shave, shine, and nails manicured all at once. If we go in a cafe for lunch we want everyone in there, the proprietor and all the waiters, to give us their undivided attention and to hurry up about it. If a friend drops into our place of business for a friendly chat he must make it short. Thus life is one round of hurries incessantly.

What in the world is to become of us at the rate we are traveling? At the present rate we are going the nation will be flat of its back with nervous prostration in another generation. We feel flattered when the Europeans speak so admiringly of "Yankee pep", but it is exceedingly doubtful whether or not it is a trait to boast about. We might not have so much money if we were to slow down a little but I believe we would have better health, enjoy life more, and live longer, if we would.

In these days of over-hasty action, some part of our time should be spent in cultivating the lost art of solitude and meditation. We need to spend some time in getting acquainted with ourselves. It would take five years for some of us to catch up with ourselves. Let's slow down a little.

"I COULDN'T BE HAPPIER," SAYS MAN WHO WEDS GIRL BROTHER WRONGED

Mrs. Perley R. Spiker and her husband's brother, Guy Spiker, on their way to Ellis Island to greet Miss Emily Knowles.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—(Special)—Guy Spiker of Baltimore is happy at the prospect of spending the remainder of his days with the pretty young English woman, Miss Emily Knowles, whom his brother, Perley R. Spiker, wronged while in England as a member of the A. E. F.

When Miss Knowles and her three months' old baby arrived at Ellis Island, on funds supplied by the wife of the father's baby, she was met and cordially greeted by Mrs. Perley Spiker and by Guy Spiker, her brother-in-law, who had promised to marry Miss Knowles before he had ever seen her.

The baby was the center of all eyes. Mrs. Spiker "appropriating" it saying she "loved it and it was a dear little thing."

Miss Knowles seemed relieved when the bit of humanity, wrapped in a big brown checkered shawl, was put back into her arms. Mrs. Spiker is determined to adopt the infant, however.

"I am very happy that everything has turned out as it has," said Miss Knowles. "Mr. Guy Spiker (Perley Spiker's brother) is very kind and generous to want to marry me. Guy and I will be married at once."

"I want very much to keep the baby myself, but, in view of Mrs. Spiker's unusual kindness, I may be willing that she should technically adopt it. But I will see my baby often."

Mrs. Spiker emphasized that it was a lifelong observance of the golden rule that had prompted her not only to forgive her husband, but to do everything possible to right the wrong done Miss Knowles.

Mrs. Spiker said that as a school teacher in here native town at Harrisburg, W. Va., she had taught Guy as her pupil, the all-importance of the golden rule.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered
Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets
Are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. For 17 years he used these tablets (a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil) in his private practice with great success.

They do all the good that calomel does but have no bad after effects. No pains, no griping, no injury to the gums or danger from acid foods—yet they stimulate the liver and bowels. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "loggy" and "heavy." Note how they clear clouded brain and perk up the spirits. 10c and 25c a box.

VIRGINIAN SAYS HE'S JUST LIKE A NEW MAN

"A few bottles of Tanlac have made me feel like a new man all over," said James T. Powell, 15 Nelms Place, Berkeley, Va., recently.

"For three years," he continued, "my appetite had been very poor, and I had gotten to be so badly rundown, weak and nervous that it was an effort for me to work at all. For the past eight months I couldn't eat a bite of breakfast and the little I managed to eat at other times seemed to do very little good. I was so nervous and restless that I couldn't half sleep and always felt tired and worn out. I had no energy and but little strength left and felt miserable and unfit for anything."

"But I am an entirely different man since I began taking Tanlac. I sleep like a log every night and get up feeling so hungry I can hardly wait for breakfast to be put on the table. I am so full of new life and energy and feel so strong and active I believe I could win in a foot race. I have piled up several pounds in weight and am feeling just fine. There sure is something about Tanlac that does the work all right."

PROTESTANTS TO HOLD A BIG GET TOGETHER MEET

By the Associated Press

ATLANTIC CITY, Jan. 6.—One thousand prominent Protestant churchmen and 150 editors of Protestant religious periodicals will gather here tomorrow for a three days' conference having for its main purpose "the welding of the Protestant denominations for the evangelization of the world." The conference has been called by Robert Lansing, secretary of state, who is chairman of the general committee of the Interchurch World Movement, under whose auspices the sessions will be held.

For the first time, it is said, the co-ordination or lack of co-ordination of the churches will be visualized in order that a remedy may be applied for the "wasting of spiritual energy, the lives of the workers and the money of the churches."

Maps, charts and graphics illustrating the present religious, moral, educational and hygienic conditions of the world in both the foreign and home fields will be placed before the delegates. Typical counties and cities in the United States will be represented showing the location of every church, parish house, social centre, school or other centre of religious influence.

Unmarked patches on the chart exhibits, it is said by those in charge of the conference, will prove "a startling revelation as to the great inadequacy of the American churches at present to meet the religious needs of the country." The foreign missionary field charts and maps will form another part of the exhibit and afford information gathered from more than 1,500 missionaries of all the more important Protestant denominations.

Missionary statistics never before compiled, it is announced, will be presented so that the magnitude of the financial task the Interchurch Movement must shoulder to fulfill its spiritual obligations may be definitely fixed.

Pontotoc County Breeder's to Hold Big Livestock Sale

Members of the Pontotoc County Improved Breeders' Association, in their meeting last Saturday, perfected plans for the highest quality livestock sale ever conducted in the Southwest, to be held in Ada Feb. 1st. The one hundred head of pure bred animals consigned for this auction sale are choice individuals from the well known herds of Pontotoc county.

The breeders passed a resolution, and authorized it to become a part of the minutes of their meeting, inviting the co-operation of the business men of Ada and Pontotoc county to use every effort possible in making this sale a success. The business men and women are invited to attend this sale. Comfortable seats will be provided for visitors and prospective buyers.

Every breeder and every farmer should investigate this offering. Every animal advertised is the property of a registered breeder of Pontotoc county. It will not only be a splendid opportunity to secure just what you want, but the educational value of such a display of the leading breeds will be well worth the time of any one.

Bruno Mayer, Chilcutt and Fussell will start the sale with twelve head of choice Herefords, 8 bulls, 2 cows and 2 heifers. They are champions of the breed and are of the Anxiety the 4th, Dale, Corrector and the Marchon breeding. Reed and Jackson and Hiram Jones have consigned 10 roan Shorthorn bulls of the White Hall Sultan breeding, many times champion. Ben Boring's herd will be represented by one of his three year old Angus bulls, of the famous Black Bird strain.

Excellent animals of the dairy breed will pass through the sale ring. A. B. Meyer and W. B. Johnson will sell 15 high grade two year old Jersey heifers, which are sired and bred to such sires as Houplia's Majesty and Noble's Financial Count whose half brother, Financial Sensation, sold for $60,000.00. R. F. Wilborn, Cecil Riddle and W. R. Dennis have consigned such Holsteins as Gerbon DeKol Imperial; Johanna's Sir Hengerveld Segis, and Johanna Pauline Magnet 2nd, an 18 lb. A. R. O. cow.

Forty two Duroc Jersey hogs are to be sold. This is foundation stock of such breeding as National Colonel 2nd, Defenders, Orrion Cherry King, Valley Chief and A. Wonder Queen. These durocs are consigned by Ben Boring, R. F. Wilborn, L. L. Lillard, Allen Stanfield, W. R. Dennis and Virgil Hunt. Eight big type Poland Chinas are consigned. They are of the Big Bob, Big Bob Jumbo and Big Sensation strain. J. L. Barringer is the breeder. One Per-

THOUSANDS HAVE KIDNEY TROUBLE AND NEVER SUSPECT IT

Applicants for Insurance Often Rejected.

Judging from reports from druggists who are constantly in direct touch with the public, there is one preparation that has been very successful in overcoming these conditions. The mild and healing influence of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable record of success.

An examining physician for one of the prominent Life Insurance Companies, in an interview of the subject, made the astonishing statement that one reason why so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because kidney trouble is so common to the American people, and the large majority of those whose applications are declined do not even suspect that they have the disease. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is on sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention the Ada News.

These Tires Are a Revelation

The Brunswick is frankly a combination of the best in tire building.

There is one tread that's supreme beyond question. And that is now on Brunswicks.

There is one side-wall construction, which, by every test, holds the summit place for endurance. And that one was adopted for Brunswicks.

Fabrics differ — up to 30 per cent — in their strength tests. On Brunswicks the maximum long-fiber is the standard.

There are certain additions, each one expensive, which add vastly to tire mileage. The Brunswick embodies all these extras.

There are no patents, no secret formulas to prevent any maker from building the best. It is simply a question of knowledge and skill—cost plus care.

Brunswick standards are known the world over. The very name certifies an extraordinary tire. Yet Brunswicks cost no more than like-type tires.

Buy ONE Brunswick. It will prove that a better tire can't be bought, regardless of price.

DO IT NOW

The special session of the Oklahoma legislature should not last more than twenty four hours. Action may be had on the woman's suffrage question in a single day, and when that question shall have been acted on, the legislature should at once adjourn sine die.

Oklahoma does not need a special session for purposes of legislation. The only matter that justifies a special session is the Susan B. Anthony amendment, and there is some question about a session being justified by that amendment. But beyond any question whatever, Oklahoma does not at this time need a session of thirty or sixty days. The legislators do not need such a session, the state as a state does not need it, and the people of the state neither need it nor want it. The only interests in the state that will seek to extend the session will be certain state departments, state institutions, and state employees, who will make day and night hideous with their demands for appropriations and increases in salaries.

Here is where the plain people of Oklahoma should really get busy. The public should register an emphatic demand for immediate action on the suffrage resolution and adjournment immediately after the resolution of ratification is disposed of. They should let their legislators know at once and beyond all mistaking that they are opposed to an orgy of appropriation and of salary increases. It is well for the public to realize that a tremendous effort will be made by special interests to have the bars let down and millions of money taken from the treasury. Many legislators will be ready to yield to this effort and unless the people make their wishes known at once and in a very emphatic way the effort will be a successful one.

It was said at the Muskogee convention that Governor Robertson would open the program of legislation wide and let the legislature consider all matters it might see fit. We sincerely hope that Governor Robertson was misquoted. We believe that if the governor should let down the bars, neither he nor the democratic party would ever cease to rue the day the special session was called. An extended session appropriating millions of money would be a disaster of the first magnitude.

The Evening News hopes most earnestly and most sincerely that Governor Robertson will submit nothing to the special session but the suffrage question. We fervently hope that the legislature will refuse to consider any other question. And we hope the people who must pay the bills will at once let their representatives know that they want the shortest possible session and the least expensive one.

THE CITY MANAGER

Ten cities of 2,000 to 25,000 population have adopted the city manager plan in the last three months.

Half a hundred cities of more than 10,000 population now have the city manager plan written into their charters.

What the plan accomplishes for the small city is illustrated by the experience of Kalamazoo, Mich.

Kalamazoo is on a sound financial basis, with a budget system and un-to-date accounting. The administration uses one form of bank check instead of 14, as formerly; one form of voucher instead of 27; has four bank accounts instead of 21; and has the lowest tax rate of any Michigan municipality.

The cities which recently have adopted the plan are Muskogee, Mich.; Lynchburg and Newport News, Va.; West Palm Beach, Sanford and Tallahassee, Fla.; Pittsburg, Cal.; Painesville, Ohio, and Sallisaw and Walters, Okla.

The government recently held civil service examinations to fill the position of town manager for some of its war-time industrial villages which are being maintained for peace-time uses, notably a nitrate-producing community at Muscle Shoals, Ala.

Some mighty peculiar things are pulled off in political conventions. For instance the recent convention at Muskogee unanimously adopted a resolution never to support a candidate whose loyalty was suspected during the war, and within five minutes after adopting the resolution unanimously elected as delegate to San Francisco a man whose loyalty during the war was pretty widely questioned. But wisdom is justified of her children.

Of the 8,000,000 automobiles in the world, 6,000,000 are in the United States.

A child with twelve fingers has been born in Brooklyn, an extra finger on each hand.

Warrant Issued For Man Charged With Slander

A warrant was issued this morning by the county court against Joe Evans of Ada. He is charged with imputing unchastity to a female and the complaint was signed by Mrs. Annie Parks, who runs the Parks Day Nursery on East Main. Evans has not been arrested this afternoon.

C. C. Fowler and wife of Qinton are in the city visiting their daughter, Mrs. A. K. Thornton. Mr. Fowler was one of the early residents of this city and was one of the founders of the Ada Flouring Mills. He has many friends here among the old timers who are always glad to have him come to town.

FAITH STRONGER THAN LURE OF WEALTH AND ZULU BEAUTY

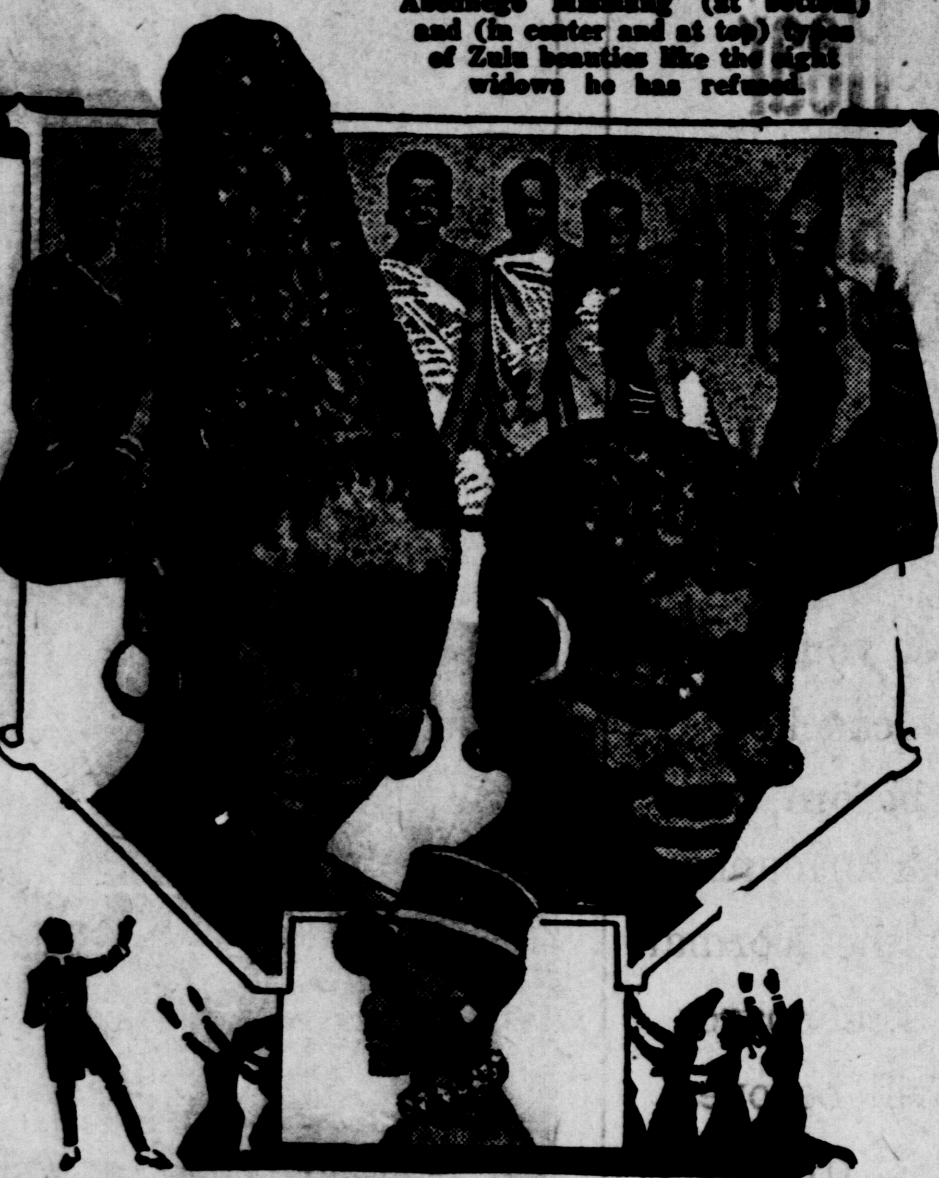

Converted "Wild Man"
Prefers Study of Christianity to Life of Ease and Return to Worship of His Youth.

To refuse to surrender a prize in return for a competence and a young and charming wife, requires great, and rather rare, firmness of character. What then shall be said of the man who holds to his faith as against great wealth and eight young and charming widows? This Abednego Mismang has done. And Abednego was, not so long ago, a Zulu "wild man."

Abednego's story might seem to be a comic opera plot to frivolous and light thinking persons, but a little analysis makes it seem different, somehow. A very celebrated and ancient temptation—that of St. Anthony—has been perpetuated in story, poetry and painting for many, many generations, but Abednego's temptation—a far more compelling one—will probably be read to-day, and forgotten to-morrow.

Fifteen years ago Abednego was a fighting, swaggering Zulu chieftain. One day he was attracted to the Congregational Missionary School at Durban by, as he says, the clean and neat appearance of the boys of his tribe who were pupils there. Abednego sought the missionary in charge, talked with him and, presently, turned from his tribal religion to the study of Christianity. Soon Abednego had entered the elementary school. A few years later he was enrolled in the theological seminary. During these years of study he saw and heard little of his family. Then his oldest brother died and Abednego journeyed to the funeral. He returned to college, some weeks later, greatly depressed over the barbaric ceremonies, and, particularly, distressed about the willing of his brother's widow, wealth and children to the next of kin, Mismang.

Three years passed before further news of his relatives reached

Abednego. Then a messenger arrived who told him of Mismang's death, and will. The will left Mismang's eight widows, seventeen children and wealth to Abednego. Abednego was greatly tempted to forsake Christianity, for in Zululand a man's wife works for, and supports him in idleness. One wife meant ease for Abednego; eight wives ease and great wealth—the wives alone were worth eight thousand dollars in American money; a thousand dollars being a fair price in the open market, to-day, for a young and healthy Zulu woman. Abednego finally laid his problem before the missionary. They

WHO WON THE WAR?

Wichita Falls, Texas, January 28, 1920.
Horatio Bottomly, Esquire,
Editor John Bull,
London, England.

Sir: I have just read, in the evening paper, of an editorial attributed to you, questioning the good faith of the United States toward its allies, both during the war and since. I regret this editorial very much. I do not doubt the honesty of your intentions; but I do say that there is rejoicing in Berlin whenever, in one of the allied countries, any kind of an attack is made upon another.

In the American army, during the war, were thousands upon thousands of men who are German by birth or descent. Many of them are good citizens and were good soldiers. On the other hand many of them were in the army only because they were drafted, and were at heart traitors to America and to the allied cause. These men did not dare shoot in the wrong direction, nor did they dare declare their true sentiments, but they did dare to attempt to poison the minds of their comrades against any and all the allies of America. And naturally, though unfortunately, some of this seed fell upon fertile ground. There was such propaganda in the ranks of your own army and among the French and Italians, and there was fertile soil there also.

I have said that there was rejoicing in Berlin over its success—I go further and say that I believe it had its inception in Berlin. We must remember that in dealing with Germany we are dealing with a beast that has human intelligence—with a human intelligence that has no conscience—and we must watch lest we be entrapped.

When I was in England in the uniform of an officer of the American army I heard things which were not pleasant to American ears, and one of the most offensive of these speeches came from a man in British uniform; but I made allowances for I knew that an Englishman expressing anti-American sentiments was either a pro-German or else had been misled by someone who was. He was certainly not representative of the English nation.

You may be assured that the same may be said of anyone in America who expresses similar sentiments toward England. If it were possible to identify and exclude such persons from governmental position, high and low, in England and America, we would have far less cause to fear the Hun than at present.

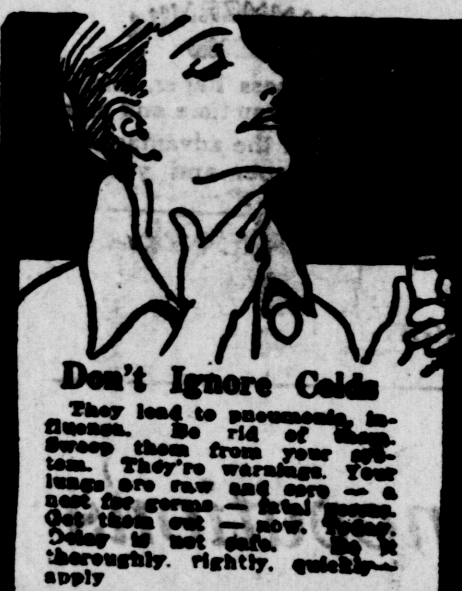

I urge hereafter, when you read American dispatches or publications you keep in mind the fact that in America, as in England, the population may be classed under two heads namely, patriots traitors, and that when one of the latter spreads the propaganda of his kaiser he gives it as many American earmarks as he can. Remember also that by unity of action, made possible by mutual confidence, the allies wrought upon the Hun such defeat as he suffered, and that only by a continuance of such mutual confidence can they keep him within bounds.

If some braggart in my country claims that America won the war, remember that he is either a fool or a liar, and no one with intelligence believes him. If Tommy Atkins makes such a claim for England I shall not dispute the matter with him. Perhaps it will make Tommy feel happy, and it certainly does not harm me. You and I know that history will place the glory where it belongs upon the banners of the allied countries. Let us not dim the lustre of that glory by petty quarrelling.

Let us then both be careful, you in your high calling as editor of John Bull and I in my humbler sphere, that we do not exert our influence in behalf of the beastly Hun.

Respectfully,
J. L. DeGROOT.

NEW JERSEY IS BOOZE LAST STAND

By the Associated Press
TRENTON, N. J., Feb. 7.—The battle in New Jersey led, by Governor Edward I. Edwards, for state rights as against constitutional prohibition is being fought along two lines: An effort to induce the legislature to contest the validity of the 18th amendment in the United States Supreme Court and to enact a state law permitting the sale in New Jersey of beverages containing more than one-half of one percent of alcohol.

Steps necessary to fight the prohibition amendment in the Supreme Court have been considered in conferences between the new Governor and the state attorney general. Two bills have been introduced in the legislature, one to permit the sale of beverages with four percent of alcohol content and the other five percent.

Governor Edwards was elected on an issue of "personal liberty." He gave a pledge in his campaign to insist the right of the people of New Jersey to say how they should live. His attempt to fulfill that pledge has made this state one of the few remaining battlegrounds for the right of a man to buy a drink and has attracted attention throughout the country.

The Governor, in attempting to assert and maintain the sovereign rights of the state as against federal constitutional prohibition, must deal with a legislature controlled by the Republican party while he is a Democrat. New Jersey not only failed to ratify the federal prohibition amendment, together with Rhode Island and Connecticut, but went further than any other state in the Union and its legislature absolutely rejected the amendment. The governor has urged the legislature to refrain in its present session from now giving its ratification.

Although Governor Edwards holds liberal personal views concerning the use of intoxicants, his friends say that he has not taken a drink of intoxicating liquor in more than 30 years, upon advice of his physician.

Edwards is a man of action rather than an orator but, in his campaign, made an impression in his speeches by directness and frankness. His is considered a staunch party organization man, of more than average business ability, tolerant and loyal; a home loving man, one whose greatest pleasure in life is in playing games with his little grandchildren. His home is in New Jersey. He is 56 years old, president of the First National Bank of Jersey City, served for six years as state controller in which office he established a "pay-as-you-go policy" for New Jersey, and for about one year was state senator. He is married and has one son, Captain Edward I. Edwards, Jr., who, served overseas in the war, and a daughter. He is a vestryman of St. Paul's Episcopal church of Jersey City.

What is Banking Service?

The term "service" has come into such common use, particularly in connection with banking, that it has lost some of its force with many.

Just what is banking service—good banking service?

It begins with the facilities which a bank offers its customers for keeping their funds safely and for transferring them by means of the convenient check. But that is only the beginning.

Just how much farther the bank can go in rendering service depends much upon the attitude of the depositor himself. If he holds himself aloof, there is little opportunity for rendering him service.

The ideal banking relation is one in which the depositor becomes acquainted with the bank's officers, takes his financial problems to them, and judiciously cultivates and uses his credit as a means of legitimate business profit.

By discussing his business plans with the bank's officers his own viewpoint becomes broadened, for it is part of the bank's service to co-operate with customers and help them succeed.

After all it is difficult to outline in brief space just what bank service is. In fact, it differs with individual cases and unfolds with acquaintance and discussion.

It is this class of service that we are endeavoring to give our customers. Are you enjoying it? If not, let us talk it over.

SCHOOL IS LOSING ITS BEST TALENT

The people of Oklahoma and the United States stand in danger of losing their best teachers in the public schools unless something is done immediately to increase their salaries, in the opinion of P. E. Laird of the state normal school at Durant.

Mr. Laird declares that 143,000 teachers dropped out of the profession in the last year and with the continued rise in prices of necessities there is a promise that even a greater number will quit this year.

Quoting the present prices of 34 articles that are termed as absolute essentials and comparing them with the prices paid for the same articles in 1916, Mr. Laird estimates that the cost has increased 173 percent while teachers' salaries have increased only 12 percent in the same time he declared.

The greatest item of increased expense according to Mr. Laird is that of women's and children's wearing apparel. These have increased more than 300 percent, he said.

"Teachers, in the main, will stay in the profession if given a wage which will permit them to enjoy the comforts of life and enable them to clothe their children as men of other professions do," he said.

PARKINSON SAYS LOWDEN BOOM IN STATE GROWING

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 9.—Lowden sentiment thruout Oklahoma is growing by leaps and bounds, according to Frank Parkinson, state pilot for the Lowden-for-president club.

While no expression relative to presidential candidates was made at the county convention here, Parkinson says he was able to sense a distinct pro-Lowden atmosphere.

Hamon headquarters is refraining from expressing Jake's presidential sentiments. Whatever "atmosphere" is perceptible to the Lowden following, Hamon men claim it most certainly is not Wood.

Controlling the majority of county conventions, Hamon men have succeeded in muzzling all presidential mutterings. Parkinson himself felt the gag not long since when he sought to espouse the merits of his candidate at a county gathering.

He later said he was not discouraged because he was howled down, as he felt the same reception would have been accorded any other presidential backer.

Parkinson says he will have a strong following here at the state convention. He says he will attempt to obtain a delegation instructed for Lowden, or at least an expression of sentiment.

Such an attempt will prove, it is deemed by many a disappointment to Parkinson. Hamon, it appears now has the best chance to control the state convention. He has stood strictly for an uninstructed delegation since his rebuff by Wood.

There is no indication that he is receding from that position, and Parkinson doubtless will have a hard row to hoe if he seeks to inject the interests of his candidate.

Oklahoma City Will Go After the Big Methodist College

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 9.—The educational commission of the M. E. church, south, will meet here March 3, to consider location of the new $1,500,000 college which will go to some city in the state.

A strong campaign to secure the location for Oklahoma City will be made.

This is assured by action of the board of stewards, St. Luke's Friday night, who by resolution urged that everything possible be done toward offering the best advantage in behalf of this, the largest city of the state.

Assistance by other local M. E. south churches and by citizens in general is asked by these resolutions.

Rev. R. E. L. Morgan is educational secretary for the state.

The church conference when it decided some months ago that the big church project would be furthered, ruled that the establishment should go to the city offering the best inducements.

CONVENTION SIDELIGHTS

The delegates from Pontotoc and Murray counties had to wait in Okmulgee three hours for a train to Muskogee. When they reached Okmulgee Judge Casteel of Sulphur stepped into the first vehicle he came to and was surprised when it stopped at the door of the calaboose. It was the city hoodlum wagon, which he had mistaken for a jitney.

The warmest debate of the convention was held on a Frisco train between Ada and Okmulgee when Conductor A. K. Boggs of Sapulpa undertook to convince three women delegates from Roff that equal suffrage is an outrage. Boggs will never be so self confident again but will probably have considerably more judgment.

A militant suffragette in the Muskogee County delegation went to the convention to make a speech. When a motion was made to adjourn for one hour the militant aforesaid understood the convention was adjourning sine die, and proceeded to mount a chair and demand that the convention reassemble and hear her speech.

When a motion was made in the convention to elect two presidential delegates arose from the crowd and demanded to know before voting whether or not the electors "would go if nominated."

Federal officials and appointees were as thick about the convention as they used to be in territorial days about Republican conventions. They held the balance of power and about everything else.

The Muskogee convention made at least two "firsts". It was the first convention probably that ever howled down a woman delegate, and the first to hear a presiding officer rule a point of order out of order.

A delegate from Muskogee city said that J. Berry King is still a sixteen to one Democrat—that he preserved his record straight my making sixteen speeches in one convention.

Mrs. Jas E. Gresham of McAlester attended the convention as a delegate from Pittsburg County. Her husband was the Republican nominee for congress against Tom D. McKeown in the Fourth District in 1916. Mrs. Gresham is a native of Mississippi and has pronounced Democratic views.

PRO TREATY FORCES WIN IN TEST VOTE

By the Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—Consideration of the Treaty of Versailles was resumed in the senate today. Republican and Democratic leaders joining forces to bring it back for debate. The decision was reached without discussion, the senate overwhelmingly voting for a motion by Senator Lodge, Republican leader, to reconsider the vote by which the treaty was laid aside last November. Unanimous consent for reconsideration had been refused by Senator Norris, Republican of Nebraska, on behalf of the irreconcilables opposing ratification, and on the roll call the irreconcilable group lined up in the negative. The vote on Senator Lodge's motion to suspend the rules shows that the treaty again could be considered was 63 to 9.
